NEW! Morning Yoga

This class focuses on the physical alignment of foundational yoga poses. We’ll learn what it means to achieve proper alignment in standing poses, forward bends, back bends, twists, and gentle inversions. We’ll also explore corrective exercises that “teach” your body how to access these poses with ease. An alignment practice leads to greater strength, joint stability, and flexibility for tight muscles. It also means less pain, better breathing, enhanced self-awareness, and a quieting of the nervous system. This class is a great way to begin/build your yoga practice. It’s also a terrific enhancement for students taking flow classes.

Photography Workshop: Manual Exposure
Do you have a digital SLR and want to move beyond photographing in an automatic or semi-automatic mode, like ‘P’ or aperture priority? You’re a lot smarter than your camera and, with a little guidance, can guide it to an exposure that you like more than it might come up with on your own, particularly when you are photographing a scene with significant dynamic range. We will decide as a group where we are meeting, perhaps at an area garden or woodlands. After reviewing why and how you might want to shoot in manual mode and arming you with strategies for quickly exposing for a photograph the way you want it to look, you will get to practice and get feedback. Come with a digital camera and accessories (such as tripod and flash) with which you are familiar.

Nasher Art Museum and Café

Join us as we explore art exhibit by Jamaican artist Ebony G. Patterson “while the dew is still on the roses”. This is the most significant exhibition of the artist’s work to date, presented within a new installation environment that evokes a night garden. Patterson is known for drawings, tapestries, videos, sculptures and installations that involve surfaces layered with flowers, glitter, lace and beads. Her work investigates forms of embellishment as they relate to youth culture within disenfranchised communities. Her neo-baroque works address violence, masculinity, “bling,” visibility and invisibility within the post-colonial context of her native Kingston and within black youth culture globally. This exhibition focuses on the role that gardens have played in her practice, referenced as spaces of both beauty and burial; environments filled with fleeting aesthetics and mourning which is celebrating its first decade as a major center for the arts on Duke University’s campus and in the surrounding Research Triangle area. We will be having lunch at the museum’s café. Bring money for lunch.

Temple Theatre - “Steel Magnolias”

The action is set in Truvy’s beauty salon in Chinquapin, Louisiana, where all the ladies who are “anybody” come to have their hair done. Helped by her eager new assistant, Annelle (who is not sure whether or not she is still married), the outspoken, wise-cracking Truvy dispenses shampoos and free advice to the town’s rich curmudgeon, Ouiser, (“I’m not crazy, I’ve just been in a bad mood for forty years”); an eccentric millionaire, Miss Clairee, who has a raging sweet tooth; and the local social leader, M’Lynn, whose daughter, Shelby (the prettiest girl in town), is about to marry a “good ole boy.” Filled with hilarious repartee and not a few acerbic but humorously revealing verbal collisions, the play moves toward tragedy when, in the second act, the spunky Shelby (who is a diabetic) risks pregnancy and forfeits her life. The sudden realization of their mortality affects the others, but also draws on the underlying strength—and love—which give the play, and its characters, the special quality to make them truly touching, funny and marvelously amiable company in good times and bad. Bring money for lunch before the show.

Please make certain that your child is adequately supervised at all times. In agreeing to take this responsibility as a parent we believe that your child’s participation in our youth recreation program will be a safe and rewarding experience.

• During activities where parents are not a part of the supervision process, we ask that parents be responsible for their child before and after any event or activity.

• Special requests (car-pooling, team placement, scheduling, etc.) are not guaranteed.

• A valid proof of age may be required for participation in some Athletic programs.
